

Kitchen, Garage, and Entry Remodel

Gresham, Oregon

The Owner wanted a new family kitchen with a lot of light, a way to showcase their dish collection, and a design which matched the spirit of the existing 1920's house. The existing rear entrance was also remodelled appropriate to its use as the primary entry. A new garage door opening was also required. Work involved design, selection of finishes, and construction. Costs were $58,000

before

before

before

after

after

after

after